

Global Symposium on Climate Change

Ladies & Gentlemen,

Thank you for your attendance today and for acting as representatives from your country. Climate Change is a critical issue that threatens humanity around the globe, and your input will be greatly appreciated and brought forward to the United Nations Earth Summit in March.

Your task is to work as a team, discuss the issue and decide the following:

i. Decide if Climate Change is actually occurring – come to an agreement and a create formal statement.

ii. If a consensus was made in step i, decide what is causing Climate Change and whether or not it is anthropogenic based or a natural cycle.

iii. Agree on at least 8 consequences of climate change.

iv. Present the formal position of your country and record the names of at least three other countries that impressed and that you would be willing to work with in the future to explore formal agreements.

v. Come up with at least 10 viable and feasible solutions that each country will make to help slow Climate Change.
