

With a partner, discuss the following questions in relation to the cells shown. Record observations.

1. Would the cell type be found in plants or animals?
2. What type of life functions might the cell be involved in?
3. Where in the organism (which body system) would the cell be found?
4. Why do cells from the same organism have such different functions?
5. What controls the functions of the different cells?

